

Figurines from Ancient Greek Olbia in the south of Ukraine

Tetiana Shevchenko

Clay Figurines of Olbia Pontica

Olbia Pontica is one of the prominent Ancient Greek sites in the south of Ukraine. Archaic, Classical, Hellenistic, and Roman clay figurines were found there in the 1930s and kept in the National Museum of History of Ukraine. These Terracottas illustrate the course of history in the Black Sea region, changes in art, religion and other aspects of life. This book analyses the figurines scientifically, through iconographic, technological and chronological identification, consideration of analogies from other centres, and investigations of communication routes in ancient times. Abundant photos and, in the case of partially preserved terracottas, reconstructions help to make this heritage, endangered since 2022, vivid and accessible.

Alturumswissenschaften
Kirchengeschichte
Kunst/Kunstgeschichte
Religion

Tetiana Shevchenko obtained her PhD in Classical archaeology in 2009 from the Institute of Archaeology of the National Academy of Sciences, Ukraine. She conducted her research at the sites of Olbia, Chersonesos, Tyrityake, Histria and chora of Nymphaeum and is the author of more than 60 publications including Greek Religion in Tauric Chersonesos (2023).

Tetiana Shevchenko
Clay Figurines of Olbia Pontica
Part I. Collection of the National Museum of the History of Ukraine

ca. 280 Seiten, E-Book
Open Access
ISBN 978-3-7965-5272-4
Erscheint im März 2025
Auch als Buch erhältlich
Schwabe Verlag Basel

[https://www.schwabe.ch/
9783796552717](https://www.schwabe.ch/9783796552717)